

Our New President

Our new president is Barack Obama. He has two children. He is an African-American. I saw him on the Chinese news. He was born in Hawaii. He had a stepdad. He was born on August 4, 1961. He loved to play Basketball just like me. He once lived in Chicago. He got married with Michelle in 1992. He loves to travel. Obama is the 44th president of the United States. He traveled to lots and lots of places. His wife, Michelle, is now the First Lady. Now he lives in Washington DC, the capital of the United States. He took his wife, Malia and Sasha to live with him.

I think he will do a great job helping poor people and everyone. I think people will agree that he will do a really good job.
