

Our New President

Our new president is Barack Obama. He was born in Hawaii. He spent his time on the beach very often. He called his grandfather "gramps" and grandmother "Toot". When he was six he moved to Indonesia. Soon he moved back to Hawaii. Then he went to high school.

When he was older he taught kids in Chicago. Obama was a lawyer. When he was walking one day he found a woman named Michelle. She was a lawyer too. They got married and had two daughters, Malia and Sasha.

In 2009 Obama became president. His speech was very long. He put a lot of spaces in between words. After the speech, he turned in circles twice and waved to everyone. I hope he will be a good president. P. S. I know he will be fantastic!
