

...is that no one would bully other people because bullying hurts other people's feelings. How would the bullies feel if someone said that to him or her? I think they would feel guilty.

Children should not bring toys to school and they should study in class and listen to the teacher. If they do this they will get good grades.

My dream is that everyone would have a home. To get a house you have to study and work hard so homeless people would not exist. Homeless means without a home.

If people don't bully and if children study and homeless people don't exist, our community will be safe and everyone would obey laws. The people would all be happy and appreciate all the work.
