

I have a dream that people should stop cutting down trees. Trees produce oxygen and they can produce medicine and food. Trees have been the world's best plants. Saving trees are important to everyone, so start saving and stop cutting!

Humans are the ones who need trees the most. They give us everything we need but mostly oxygen because we need it to breathe.

Animals also depend on trees. They are being hurt everyday. You can help save them by saving trees so they have medicine to help them feel better.

Trees can also make shelter and that is where squirrels live. Plants and trees can provide food for people and animals. Just like their leaves can produce medicine and you can get syrup from a maple tree you can pick apples, pears, oranges and lemons from trees.

Saving trees is important to many living things. They can help in many ways on earth and they will soon be gone if you don't save them.
