

One March there was a leprechaun that was very rich. Everyone in town wanted to trap him. One night a person saw the leprechaun holding a 4 leaf clover in the bushes. Then he went home and set up a trap. The leprechaun saw him. So the next day the leprechaun moved to the next bush. The trap didn't work.

The next night a pot of gold was sitting in a hole. The man took the pot of gold and went back to his house. The man was so happy. The man told the other people in town. The people were surprised. Soon it was night time. The leprechaun had a 4 leaf clover in his hands again. The man left into the bush and grabbed the 4 leaf clover from his hands. The leprechaun yelled "Hey!"

But the man already ran far away. Anyways he didn't care cause he had another 4 leaf clover. He wished that he could have his 4 leaf clover back that the man had took from him. The man was already back at his house. The 4 leaf clover disappeared on the table. When the man came back to the table it was gone.

The leprechaun soon had his 4 leaf clover back again. When he had it he took off running. Soon when he was running he saw that man behind him. "Gatcha" said the man. The man chased after him. Not long after, the man tripped on a tree branch. "Come back" yelled the man, but the leprechaun ran away.